Prize Money for Books

May I express to you and the Alumni association my very sincere appreciation for the recent honor conferred upon me by the alumni? They have given me the most gratifying experience of my entire professional life.

It may be of some satisfaction to members of the association to know that one-half of the award money has been set aside for the purchase of professional books, over half of which now have been ordered.

Golden Reunion in '61

I am secretary of the Class of 1911 so we are looking forward to 1961 for a big celebration. I may need your help in locating all of them.

Vera Perkins McBride and I are still here on the farm where I followed horticulture over 40 years. I now grow some cattle, garden, fish, and nurse my arthritis.

Looking at SIU today I'm glad to have been a part of it. Best wishes to our old friends and fellow students.

End of a Career

June 17th ended 40 years in the classroom for me as I retired from teaching June 20th. Six of those teaching years were in Granite City, Ill., and the remaining 34 years here in Los Angeles. I have enjoyed teaching during those 40 years as I love children and like to see their progress. I have taught always the underprivileged ones. They are so appreciative.

Speedier Overseas Mail

In mailing the Alumni Bulletin and other correspondence to members overseas, it is suggested that air mail postage be used. Regular mail requires nearly one month for delivery, whereas air mail arrives in three to five days.

As to news: The family and I are now residing in Paris having transferred here from Chaumont, France, last October. I am administrative officer for the 7415th Support Squadron, located at Orly Airport, Paris. Perhaps there are some other alumni in this area. If so, I certainly would enjoy hearing from them.

This is my ninth year with the Air Force since graduating from Southern. Only one complaint: it seems my assignments always keep me from attending any of your fine activities.

Another Vote For Air Mail

Enclosed is a check for membership renewal for me, my wife, and our baby girl Sophie, born in Kuwait December 18.

We sure enjoy getting Southern Alumnus and other Alumni newsletters. We always miss participating in ballots because the mail is too slow. I bet we are not the only couple to miss that! I hope that such mail is sent airmail and an additional dues be collected from alumni overseas.

Let us have a section in the Alumnus "Alumni Around the World" devoted to news items of those abroad and perhaps for organizing a club.

Champion for Frankfurt

As an Army PFC I am stationed in the town of Aschaffenburg, Germany (Pop 40,000), just 25 miles southeast of Frankfurt. Aschaffenburg is stimulating, but a GI or touring civilian hasn't discovered Europe's true fruits of delight until he has felt the heart beat of Frankfurt.

Frankfurt, one of the continent's truly modern, progressive, and industrious cities, seems to have effectively integrated the historical and cultural influences of the Old World with the scope-sweeping, enriched tones of present day twentieth century.

Music, art, theatre, parks, museums, outdoor cafes, tree-lined boulevards, darkeyed frauleins, American jazz, and 20 per cent bock beer are in complete evidence throughout this city. This I could never complain about.

Please convey my sincerest regards to fellow classmates and faculty members of the Communications School. Would enjoy having a note or two from them.

On the Cover

It was a proud moment for Southern Illinois University when its Southwestern Campus at Edwardsville held its first commencement June 14. On the cover are three pictures taken during the exercises.

The governor took this opportunity to open his personal campaign for adoption of the $195-million Universities Bond Issue. This issue, to be presented to the Illinois voters November 8, will finance a construction program at the six state-supported schools of higher learning.

The Bond Issue includes $25-million for the Southwestern Illinois Campus. Construction of classrooms and other capital improvements could begin in 1961 and classes could start in 1963 for 5,000 students—if the bond referendum is passed.

A report on the SWIC story has been written by Mrs. Mildred Arnold, former editor of the Southern Alumnus and now a writer on the staff of Dr. Harold See, vice president of the Southwestern Campus. Turn to the next page, please.

A Proud Moment ---

SWIC's First Commencement

By Mildred Caviness Arnold

Curious drivers from coast to coast stopped their cars along Bypass 66 two miles southwest of Edwardsville. Most of them were bent on saving time, avoiding downtown St. Louis traffic. Could this be what it looked like—a college commencement out here in the middle of nowhere? It could be, and it was. Another first to be chalked up for Southern's Southwestern Illinois Campus.

Bulldozers and road graders had been busy for weeks transforming rough, sharp-curved terrain into something approaching a fitting site for the climax of three years of operation of Southern's newest campus.

It had been touch and go with the weather the last few hours, but when the commencement speaker, Gov. William G. Stratton, and other friends of SIU arrived at 5 P.M. to tour the campus, the sun was out to greet them.

Two hours later, to music of the SWIC Concert Band, a colorful academic procession walked proudly along a thin grass carpet. To strangers the path may have seemed barren, not green; to those who had watched with hope since the seeds were sown, it was another triumph against long odds.

When Pres. Delyte W. Morris finished conferring 68 bachelors' degrees at this June 14 event, the 113th SWIC graduate had become an alumnus of Southern. (This figure was increased to 145 following joint summer commencement exercises at Carbondale August 12.)

In his address Governor Stratton opened a personal campaign for adopting of the $195-million Universities Bond Issue. This issue, to be presented to the Illinois voters November 8, will finance a construction program at the six state schools.

The Southwestern Illinois Campus has residence centers at the former Shurtleff College in Alton (at right above) and in East St. Louis High School Building (below).

"The bond issue," the governor said, "will be a number one interest of mine between now and the November 8 election. I expect to push with all the ability I have this plan because we need it in Illinois and because we will be set back at least a generation in the field of higher education if we don't get it. I expect the wholehearted support of most of the people of Illinois because I am certain they know, as do we, that the need for new college and university buildings is greater than any one session of the general assembly or any one biennial appropriation can pay for. Most of us would like to build our homes and pay cash for them, but most of us borrow to build. That is what is suggested here."

Mr. Stratton could not have chosen a more timely juncture to launch his campaign. Construction of classrooms and other capital improvements on the Edwardsville site can begin in 1961 if this bond referendum is successful. As amended by the Illinois legislature, the bond issue will include $25 million for making these permanent improvements for SIU's new campus at Edwardsville.

The bulldozers, the hammers and other instruments of renovation and reconstruction were laid aside for only a short time. Hardly had the pomp and circumstance died away until work on the 1,400 acres of the proposed 2,600-acre site was resumed. Very soon now, 12 of the former homes on the Edwardsville land will be occupied by SWIC offices. As fast as possible former offices at Alton and East St. Louis are being taken over for badly-needed classroom space.

The initial move to Edwardsville began a year ago when the registrar's office and that of the coordinator of libraries moved to the central location. Using former homes for office space is not new to Southern; it is the rule rather than the exception at Carbondale.

Last December the executive offices moved out of the Broadview Hotel in East St. Louis to a house on Fangenroth Road. President Morris has an office on this campus; as houses can be readied, more and more offices will be utilizing Edwardsville property.

Only a small proportion of the land is rented for pasture; 815 acres of tillable ground are being farmed on the shares. The buildings not occupied by University offices are being rented, some of them to former owners.

The Southwestern Campus has come a long way since the news of its modest beginning was reported in the Southern Alumnus three years ago. This story has been told again and again. The Illinois and St. Louis press has kept up with the development of this SIU offspring.

The quickly moving years since 1957 have been marked by a jump in enrollment from 1,873 to almost double that figure in 1959-60 and a full-time faculty of 144, four times its original size. Course offerings have increased from 120 at Alton, 46 at East St. Louis, to a curriculum which includes more than 300 different courses and more than 500 sections.

Without any loss to its academic stature, SIU has brought higher education out of its ivory tower and put it within arm's reach of the citizens of southwestern Illinois. Through credit, noncredit, and conference programs, nearly 10,000 persons have been served.

In order to make credit courses even more accessible, SWIC has utilized television instruction since 1958. Supported by a grant of $38,460 from the Ford Foundation, a three-year experimental program of televised courses in sociology and speech was instituted in the fall quarter of 1958. Lectures and demonstrations are presented through the facilities of KETC-TV, St. Louis, with regularly scheduled discussions and practice sessions meeting at the Alton and East St. Louis centers. This medium of instruction is especially effective, since both centers—25 miles apart—can be served by a single program.

Quality has kept pace with increased quantity. The faculty is one of the youngest and most vigorous in the nation; more than 60 per cent of its members have earned doctorates. This is well above the national average.

Industrial employees have eagerly seized advantages of these new educational opportunities. Eight or more employees from 28 different industries were enrolled last year; 25 different job categories were represented.

Figures tend to border on the dull, but their skyrocketing on this campus lifts them from the humdrum.

Well known is the site-fund campaign launched in 1958 by the Southwestern Illinois Council for Higher Education, when it became apparent that facilities at Alton and East St. Louis would soon be outgrown.

Contributions to purchase the 2,600 acres near Edwardsville range from $1 to $30,000 and represent gifts from more than 60,000 persons. Labor and industry have joined in a common investment—the educational future of the youth of Madison and St. Clair counties, the second highest populated area in the state.

Labor gave over $100,000, second highest contribution to date, with a payroll deduction plan of $3 per person. Industry came forth with matching gifts with their employees and some firms gave $10 for each employee. Largest single gift from industry came from Olin Mathieson, which contributed $30,000. Largest single gift came from the community of Edwardsville, whose citizens and business firms gave $215,000.

Because pledges were payable over a three-year period, options on parcels of land sometimes came due before money was available. In an unprecedented move 14 area

More than 20 SWIC faculty and staff members hold SIU degrees. Among them are, from left, Virgil Seymour '47, M.S. '48, supervisor, Evening College, East St. Louis Center, assistant professor of sociology; Lloyd Hubert '49, supervisor, East St. Louis business office; Thomas Evans '49, M.S. '50, supervisor, student affairs, East St. Louis, education instructor; Lawrence Taliana '51, M.S. '52, assistant professor of guidance; Carl Alford '59, supervisor, Auxiliary and Service Enterprises; Mrs. Betty Jo Kelley '55, M.S. '57, elementary education instructor; Robert McDaniel '57, M.S. '58, business instructor; W. Leslie Farrar '55, chief clerk, East St. Louis Evening College; Charles Butler '50, recorder who divides his time between Dr. See's office and President Morris' Edwardsville office.

In cooperation with Ford Foundation, SWIC has utilized TV instruction since 1958 to make credit courses even more accessible to Madison-St. Clair counties area. Sociology Professor J. B. Thomas is at the TV screen.

banks agreed to underwrite purchase of the land—with site-fund pledges as collateral. The agreement, made in April, 1959, between the SIU Foundation and the banks, enabled the University to exercise options on 1,400 acres.

A University agreement with consulting engineers and architectural, city planning and landscape architects preparing plans for the development of the new campus calls for paying most of the cost of their services out of the new campus' share in the proceeds of the bond issue.

Three firms have taken on the job of over-all planning for the Edwardsville Campus. Hellmuth, Obata and Kassabaum, Inc., of St. Louis are in charge of architectural planning. Hare and Hare of Kansas City, Mo., have assumed the responsibility of city planning and landscaping. Warren and Van Praag, Decatur, are the engineers.

All three firms are gambling on passage of the Universities Bond Issue to cover payment of their services. Just another instance of the spirit of faith which has characterized the whole program of SIU's Southwestern Campus.

Passage of the Bond Issue in November will mean that SWIC's campus at Edwardsville can open in 1963 with 5,000 students, according to Dr. Harold W. See, vice president in charge of the Southwestern Campus. By 1970, 18,000 students will be accommodated.

Time and money barriers to SWIC's future growth can be overturned by the support of Illinois voters of the Universities Bond Issue in the November 8 election. Alumni are urged to consider it very seriously and to discuss it with their friends.

Around the Campus

A record-breaking summer class of 502 graduates received SIU degrees at Commencement exercises in McAndrew Stadium August 12.

Included in the 502 degrees were six Ph.D.'s—two in psychology, Ronald Lee Brown, M.A. '58, DeSoto, and Ronald Rottschafer, M.A. '58, Oak Park; two in speech correction, Frederick S. Berg, M.S. '56, Farmington, N.M., and William K. Ickes, Des Moines, Ia.; and two in secondary education, Eugene Cottle, Laramie, Wyo., and D. Wayne Rowland, former assistant professor of journalism at Southern.

Second lieutenant commissions in the Air Force were given Richard Frassato, Swanwick; Gaylord Hayden, Streator; Frank Renaldi, Jr., Chicago; Fred Sloan, McLeansboro; Robert Wolfe, DeSoto; Emerson Young, Jr., Mattoon, and Gaylen Henson, Carbondale.

Prof. E. C. Coleman, of the SIU English Department, gave the address.

Foundation Meeting

The SIU Foundation Board of Directors will meet on Friday, October 21, from 9:30 A.M. to noon in the Agriculture Building Seminar Room.

Foundation President J. Lester Buford '24-2, '28, Mt. Vernon school superintendent and also the SIU Alumni Association first vice president, will preside at the meeting. Executive director is Kenneth R. Miller, assistant to President Morris.

Student Housing

Following an emergency plea to area householders, 500 of the 600 "homeless" women students admitted for the fall term have been housed in off-campus residences. This improved greatly the fall term housing situation, since it usually is more difficult to find housing for women than for men.

It was expected that incoming men would be able to locate off-campus housing until September 1, when the problem would become more critical.

All University-operated housing—residence halls, family apartments, and the trailer court—have been booked solid since last February.

At a late-August count fall-term admissions were running over 1,000 students ahead of the pace last year, when an estimated 400 students left the campus because they couldn't find housing.

Busy Calendar

The 1960-61 social calendar for the Carbondale campus is chock full of a variety of events that range from varsity athletics to concerts, from religious observances to water shows. The season gets under way with New Student Week September 16-20.

A hasty glance at the schedule comes up with homecoming dominating the October scene on the 22nd and Parents' Day on the 29th. National conference of Phi Eta Sigma is here November 10-12.

December is taken up with Christmas activities, including a sing, dance, play, special assembly and oratorio concert. January has the Religion in Life Week and February is time for the Air Force ROTC's big show, "Review in Blue," followed by the Fine Arts Festival from the 12th to the 25th.

Theta Xi's variety show occurs in March, "Music Under the Stars" in April, and May is busy with water shows, Spring Festival, dances, and the Miss Southern contest.

New Chairmen

Two new department chairmen have been appointed on the Carbondale campus. Mortimer Applezweig now is head of the Psychology Department, succeeding Prof. Noble Kelley, who has been named a research professor, and John M. H. Olmsted, is chairman of the Mathematics Department.

Mr. Applezweig has been professor of psychology at Connecticut College and a principal research investigator for the Office of Naval Research. He holds degrees from City College of New York, University of Denver, and University of Michigan. He formerly was associated with the U.S. Air Force psychological program.

Professor Olmsted, former professor of mathematics at the University of Minnesota, replaces W. C. McDaniel, chairman of the Department of Mathematics since 1950. A graduate of the University of Minnesota and Princeton University, Professor Olmsted is the author of four books on calculus and geometry, associate editor of the American Mathematical Monthly, and a member of the board of governors of the Mathematical Association of America.

New Student Group

The country's first student branch of a Soil Conservation Society of America chapter was organized in June as an affiliate of the Egyptian Soil Conservation Society. Six universities have regular student chapters but the SIU students preferred to form a branch instead.

Alumni Meet--from Olney to Miami

Tampa-St. Petersburg Area Club in Florida was reorganized last February when Alumni Executive Director Robert Odaniell '51 and Fieldman Jay King '51 visited the group. Heading it, from left, Robert C. Buzbee, ex '25, Frieda Ann Stoneman '26-2, and Past President Leila Partee '50, all members of the board; Pres. Mildred J. Crissip '57, Vice President Frederick T. Heaton, ex '57, and Secretary-Treasurer Sevah Rendleman Phemister '34.

During the southern trip of the two Alumni Office men a new club was organized at Miami, Fla. Directing it are, from left, Joy King Gannett IV '57, board member; Vice President Rosalee Restivo Marcink '47; President John Baiar, ex '43; Secretary-Treasurer Ruth Mills Kerr '27-2, '34; and Betty Louise Corners '49, board member.

If Jay King, SIU Alumni Association's energetic and amicable field representative, is to meet his goal of "40 in '60," he has three more clubs to organize before the end of this year.

At the end of the 1959-60 alumni club program, the score read 35 clubs—three new clubs (Bond-Clinton Counties, Miami, Fla., and Mattoon) and one reorganized club (Tampa-St. Petersburg, Fla.).

With the arrival of fall, clubs everywhere swing into action, planning meetings, various activities and projects. All SIU alumni are urged to join the club in their area and to participate actively. New graduates especially are invited to become acquainted with their fellow alumni. A list of club presidents appears on Page 9.

President Morris was guest speaker at Jefferson County meeting in Mt. Vernon. From left, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lester Buford '24-2, '28 (Dorothy Draper '26) (he is first vice president of the SIU Alumni Association); W. H. Beckmeyer, music director, Mt. Vernon High School; President Morris; Club President Lewis Hilliard '51; Vice President Clifford Fore '33.

Another new club was organized in the Mattoon Area late in March. Guiding its destiny are, from left, C. Wayne King '50, Mrs. Evelyn Parker Davis '47, both board members; Secretary-Treasurer Lorraine Carrington Koets '48; Melvin C. Lockard, ex '24, chairman of the meeting; President Robert Veach '49; Vice President Joseph C. Deaton '41; H. E. Greer '28-2, '32, and William Paris, ex '49, on the board.

SIU Vice President Charles Tenney, guest speaker at the Springfield meeting last spring, presented Historian Robert P. Enrietto '49 a prize while looking on are Board Member Phyllis Sears Ellis, ex '41; President Lloyd Robison, ex '50; Mrs. Marjory Morse Enrietto '47 and William H. South, ex '46, both board members; Vice President Willis E. Pickerill '51, and Board Member James Cannon '50.

Alumni--Football--Smorgasbord

That's a darn good combination most anywhere but especially when the alumni are the loyal sons and daughters of Southern Illinois University, the football is Coach Carmen Piccone's finest brand, and the smorgasbord is served by the Carbondale Elks Club.

Responsible for this hard-to-beat menu is the Jackson County Alumni Club. Its members are sponsoring a smorgasbord before each home game except Homecoming. Serving is from 5:30 to 7:30 P.M. at the Elks Club, located on the corner of University and Jackson. All alumni and their guests are invited to partake of this delicious repast before going to the game. Tickets are $2 per person.

The parking problem is solved, too! Alumni can park their cars near the Elks Club, then go to the game via bus. Buses will leave the club at 7 P.M. and at 7:30 P.M. for the Stadium. Fare is 40c round trip per person. Games start at 8 P.M.

Alumni are urged to order their football tickets in advance. But for those who don't have tickets, there will be some available at the smorgasbord.

No reservations are necessary for the smorgasbord. It will be served before these four home games—September 17, Missouri Mines; September 24, Ohio Wesleyan; October 8, Western Illinois; and October 29, Eastern Michigan.

The Franklin County Club held an April meeting—from left, SIU Alumni Board Member Guy Lambert '33; Board Member Willard Zimbleman '39; President Virginia Boyer Perrine '54; SIU Board Member David Kenney '47; Secretary Vareta Morris Doty '29-2, '54; Board Member Rose Tate '52; Speaker Aubrey Holmes '35; Mrs. Walter Collins, SIU trustee and a guest; Board Member Madge Murphy Presley, ex '42; Vice President Georgia Sniderwin Griffin, ex '34.

The year-old Kankakee club met May 1. From left, Past President James N. Rogers '49; Dale Berry '47; Board Member James Froman '50; President Douglas Shepherd '53; Board Member Edward Knop '51; Secretary-Treasurer Carolyn Bernhard '55; Board Member Robert Hilsenhoff '56; former secretary-treasurer, Barbara Rose Volkmann '55; Vice President Robert Hurt '52.

President D. W. Morris (left) was guest speaker at the spring meeting of the Jackson County Club. With him are Past President Neva Woolard Isbell '47 and 1960-61 President Leon F. Striegel, ex '48.

Attending the Richland County meeting were Mr. and Mrs. George Brazitis, ex '50 (Evelyn Cagle, ex '49) at left—he is new president—and Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Michels (Marilyn Petty '57)—she is former president.

The luncheon meeting of the Perry County club was well attended. Among those present, from left, Secretary Ruth Martinson Striker, ex '59, Board member Idene Stockton '59, President Ron Riegel '58, Vice President Olive Pyatt '29-2, '42, Historian Loa Batson Runion '27-2, '29

- * IIAC games

An attractive 10-game football schedule looms ahead of Coach Carmen Piccone and his veteran Saluki gridders this season.

Southern Illinois University's squad is slated to play five games at McAndrew Stadium, including four night games. Only afternoon contest will be the homecoming battle with Illinois State Normal University October 22. All games will be played on Saturdays.

The Salukis open with a pair of interesting home games. Missouri Mines, a team loaded with former area prep stars, invades McAndrew Stadium September 17, with Ohio Wesleyan calling the following week.

Piccone's crew travels to Northern Illinois University for an October 1 engagement, which also is Southern's first Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference game of the campaign.

A sellout is almost a certainty here the following week when the league's defending Western Illinois University champions come to town. The game already is tabbed as one which may decide this year's loop titlist.

Southern goes to Eastern Illinois University for its next game before returning October 22 for another conference affair with Illinois State Normal. Eastern Michigan is at Carbondale the following week to wind up the home season.

The Salukis close the 1960 season with three straight road games in November as they go to Bowling Green, Ohio, Central Michigan University, and Ohio University.

Anticipating another banner season in its over-all athletic program, SIU is relying on a veteran-studded football squad to launch its bid for a third straight IIAC all-sports trophy.

Although claiming the coveted all-sports crown the past two seasons, the Salukis still are looking forward to their first football championship since the IIAC was formed a decade ago.

Southern shared runner-up laurels in final football standings both in '58 and '59 while on its way to the all-round sports title, but this year is hoping to do even better on the gridiron.

Chief cause of optimism in the Saluki camp is a host of 27 returning lettermen from last year's five-and-four club. Coach Carmen Piccone's outfit came on strong in the second half of the '59 season. Only team to defeat Southern after the first four weeks of the campaign was Bowling Green's unbeaten Falcons, who claimed the mythical small-college football championship.

Instrumental in Southern's late-season splurge were back Amos Bullocks, Tom Bruna, Clarence Walker, and Ron Winter along with linemen Capt. Willie Brown, Jim Battle, and Houston Antwine. Of the group only Brown was lost by graduation. However, there is some uncertainty regarding the availability of Walker.

Should Walker, a 220-pound sophomore speedster who hails from DeQuincy, La., not be around at the start of football practice, it would mean Coach Piccone will have to look for another workhorse to lead his offensive attack. Last year Walker carried the ball on 97 of Southern's 402 plays and was credited with picking up 505 of the Salukis' 1,872 yards gained by rushing. He netted 470 for a 4.8 yards-per-try average.

Fred Coger, another southerner from Jackson, Tenn., may be next in line for the starting left-halfback position although he'll receive stiff competition from Jan Jansco of Johnston City.

Jansco, a senior, saw much more action than Coger a year ago as he was the Salukis' fifth busiest back with 39 attempts. But, Coger, who is just a sophomore, enjoyed a fine spring practice and appears set for a good fall.

The other three backfield positions are well fortified with Bullocks of Chicago, Captain Bruna of Thayer, and Winter of Carmi.

Bullocks, in all probability, will be back at his familiar right-half position where he averaged slightly more than five yards per try last season. Bruna leads a solid quartet of fullbacks which includes Bernie Feinstein, University City, Mo.; Frank Harrington, Evansville, Ind.; and Archie Magee, Brockton, Mass.

Bruna handled most of the work last season, but the others gave every indication of being able to meet the challenge should the situation present itself.

Winter, an experienced senior, was impressive last spring and Coach Piccone feels he now possesses the self-

Huff for Young in Sports Lineup

There's a new lineup in the athletic publicity department of the SIU Information Service—and consequently a new sports editor for the Southern Alumnus.

Fred Huff traveled all the way from Du Quoin, where he was with the Call Publishing Company, to replace William J. (Bill) Young '55, who has "gone west" to become sports publicity director for the University of Wyoming at Laramie.

Fred, who played football and basketball at Du Quoin High School, did a year at Marquette University. He is known in southern Illinois for his officiating in high school football and basketball. Last year he was general chairman of the All-Star Basketball game sponsored by the Elks for the Cerebral Palsy organization. He is married and has two children.

Bill Young had the job two years—since the fall of '58. Before returning to SIU, he had been a reporter on the Oxnard, Calif., Press Courier after three years in the Air Force.

confidence necessary for a first-class quarterback. He matched Walker's total net offense of last season by rushing for 108 yards and accounting for 362 via the air lanes. Battle was his main target, the pair connecting on 13 occasions.

Southern's forward wall is power-packed at two positions—end and tackle—but lacks depth at both the guard and center spots.

Experienced ends returning are sure-handed Battle of Chicago; three-year letterman Dick Nelson, Wheaton; Ray Knecht, Berwyn; and Gene Rodriguez, Hammond, Ind. Gerald Eskoff, East Chicago, Ind., a '58 letter-winner, also is returning.

Without a doubt the Salukis are strongest at the vital tackle spot. Six lettermen are expected back in addition to some husky man-handlers up from the freshman squad.

Kingpin of the forward wall is expected to be Antwine, a 250-pound standout, from Memphis, Tenn. Backing him up are Don Bates (220) Paulsboro, N.J.; Dick Carpenter (220) Centralia; Al Kalapinski (230) Lynn, Mass.; Sam Silas (230) Barstow, Fla.; and Gene Williams (240) St. Louis.

Trouble spots loom at guard and center. Only Paul Brostrom, Chicago, who sat out last year with a leg injury, and John Longmeyer, Greenfield, have any experience at guard. Grady Seckler, Hannibal, Mo., is the only seasoned center.

"If we can find replacements for those two spots—guard and center—we can have a good season," Piccone says.

The energetic young coach, who is in his second season at the grid helm here, will be grooming his squad for a September 17 opener against Missouri Mines at McAndrew Stadium.

"Continental Capers" at Homecoming

Homecoming a la francaise, en la espanola, in den deutsch, or in il italiano—no matter the preference Homecoming at SIU October 20–22 will be continental style served in Southern's finest tradition.

Theme for this year is "Continental Capers" with parade entries and house decorations based on European motifs. Campus decorations also will reflect various European scenes.

Lending a sophisticated air to the festivities will be Skitch Henderson and his orchestra, who will play for the gala Homecoming Dance at the Armory.

Opening the crowded and fun-packed Homecoming program will be the coronation of the Homecoming Queen Thursday, October 20, in Shryock Auditorium amidst the traditional pomp and ceremony.

Other events in the three-day schedule include the annual Homecoming parade with floats, high school bands, and novelty entries; two stage shows on Saturday night; and numerous teas, department open houses, and coffee hours for returning alumni. A full program will be presented in the October Southern Alumnus.

On the gridiron Saturday afternoon, starting at 1:30, will be the Homecoming football game with Illinois State Normal University.

June Bradley, Princeton, is chairman for SIU's 1960 Homecoming. Her steering committee met last spring to begin planning and preparations for the thousand and one details involved in this giant production.

Fall Events

High School Guest and Band Day will be held on the Carbondale campus Saturday, September 17, and Parents' Day Saturday, October 29.

Names Make News

One of the most faithful members of the Richland County Alumni Club is T. C. Colvin, ex, Olney. Last spring he attended the meeting held at the Litz Hotel. He has served as a member of the board of directors of the group as well as city clerk of Olney and secretary of the Olney Board of Education since 1931. He has homesteaded near the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation in North Dakota, has taught school in Richland County, and once was voted "Teacher of the Year" of the Sunday Schools in this country of the Disciples of Christ Church. He is 82; his wife is a former Carbondale school teacher.

Arthritis has curtailed the activities of Mrs. A. H. Bowman (Alice Brainerd, 2), of Grayville, and she has been forced to give them up outside her home. Last year she attended the sixtieth reunion of her class held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. James Barrow '98-2 (Lucy Patten '98-2) in Carbondale. Her brother is Stuart Brainerd, 2, of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Brainerd (Ethel Cruse, ex) celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary April 30. They write, "Both well and enjoy memories of our school days together and friends of long ago. The 60th anniversary class reunion last year found many gone. Looking forward to 65th anniversary reunion of Class of '99."

Attending the 60th Reunion of the Class of 1900 in June were Mr. and Mrs. Augustus J. Reef, 2, (above), of Denver, Colo.

Mr. Reef, a retired engineer, formerly was associate engineer for the Rocky Mountain Arsenal.

R. C. Slagle, Jr., son of R. C. Slagle, Sr., Sherman, Tex., was leader of the fourth congressional district delegates to the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles in July. He was very active on behalf of the candidacy of Senator Lyndon Johnson, of Texas, Senate Democratic leader who has been named vice president candidate. An AP picture of Mr. Slagle appeared in the Sherman, Texas, Democrat.

The elder Slagle, who has served as class representative on the Alumni Legislative Council, has lived in Texas since 1901. He retired as secretary-treasurer and a director of Hardwicke-Etter Company a few years ago and now devotes his time to real estate.

Two members of the class, both retired educators, live on the West Coast in California. Mary Alice Hawley, 2, lives in Los Angeles at 1343 Neola Street.

From Santa Monica Cloyd C. Hall, 2, writes, "Mrs. Hall and I are truly enjoying life in a quiet beach city near Los Angeles." He retired after 30 years as a high school principal and teacher in Arizona and California and then entered real estate business in Santa Monica.

When her "crutch wasn't brave enough to take her hobbling about the campus to greet friends of a half century ago," the idea of sending a greeting-in-rhyme occurred to Mrs. Lawrence M. Hilton (Mina Myrthine Allen, 2), Cobden, and she sent the following:

Alumni Day! There'll be reunions then
As classmates meet, reviewing years long past.

Who'll represent our class of 1910—
The class which—can we say?—is unsurpassed!

Since more than half of us now heed roll calls

Among the angels, we are sure that they

Will seek out windows in the jasper walls
To gaze down on their classmates this glad day.

Will Gordon Browne be present? Will his eyes

Be full of mischief, as of old they were?
Will Lois, of scholastic enterprise,
Relate what life has fondly dealt to her?
Perhaps E. Davis, earnest and sincere,
May join the group, with Bette Davis-fame.

And Guy will smile, and shout a joyous
"Here!"

When the reunion clerk calls out his name.

If Bessie Gore attends, perhaps she'll read

Apt Indonesian letters from her "child";
Marie, if present, may well intercede
For Latin learning which we once reviled.

Our class was ever proud we had a Knight

Enrolled; we've all been hoping he'll attend;

And, likewise, Myrtle Kenney, with her bright,
Quick smile and wish to be a worthy friend.

Charles A. McGinnis, present, may make clear

A teacher's means of opening Fate's bright files.

And Mildred Nash should tell of her career

In California and "the balmy isles."
If Anna Escott's here from tall Mt. Hood She'll tell brief stories of long years she taught;

And William Stein, if questioned, surely could

Relate experience with laughter fraught.
Theresa T., returning to these halls,
Could give our gathering a happy touch.

But Myrth can't come. You see, two dreadful falls

Have left her quite dependent on a crutch!

So, classmates, let me wish you, in this rhyme,

A joyous day at dear old SIU.

Forget, today, that next reunion-time
May find us in that angel chorus too.

In Hollywood, Fla., Mary Entsminger, 2, ended a busy year last June as a substitute teacher. Then she served as superintendent of a two-week vacation church school in addition to her duties as an officer in two Republican clubs.

Mr. Lucille Bradley Geldert, ex, who received an A.B. from the University of California and a J.D. from the University of Chicago, lives in Berkeley, Calif. She has two daughters and a son.

Most of the credit for the successful reunion of the Class of '15 in June goes to Mrs. Mae Travelstead McIntosh, 2, who was hostess to the class in her home in Carbondale. She wrote to her classmates inviting them to attend and enjoy the gala festivities.

One of the members who came was Mrs. C. C. Gillespie (Ethel McClintock, 2), Johnston City, who has served as a dental assistant to her husband, Dr. C. C. Gillespie, ex '09, for 20 years. They have three children.

From Marion came Mrs. Eliab J. Aikman (Blanche Holland). The Aikmans have a son and daughter.

In June of 1959 Hugh C. Gregg, 2, retired as vice president and treasurer of Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y. He had been on the staff since 1945. He lives on Marvel Road in Fayetteville, N.Y. During his tenure at Syracuse he introduced new business practices, brought new leadership and organization to food service, built new warehousing facilities and a new steam plant, and gave expert management to real estate holdings, according to the report of Syracuse's Board of Trustees in commending Mr. Gregg.

Gregg

A navy veteran of World War I, he received degrees from the University of Chicago. He was business manager and professor of banking at Albion College in Michigan and later business manager-secretary and professor of finance at Iowa State for almost 12 years. He has conducted surveys for the North Central Association of Schools and Colleges and for the Methodist Board of Education and has conducted workshops for college business officers for the Northern Baptist Assembly and for the Methodist Board of Education.

In 1955 he was on a three-month leave from Syracuse to go to Formosa as adviser on the development of the Chinese institutions of higher education for the U.S. State Department.

1918

Mrs. Albert Faughn (Naoma Wooldridge, 2) retired after many years as a rural school teacher in Illinois and now is engaged in sales work for Linders Realty in Phoenix, Ariz.

In Mt. Vernon David A. Whitlock, 2, retired mail clerk, now serves as superintendent of the sewer commission.

Two members of the Class of '20 who attended the 40th Reunion in June but were too late to get into the class picture were Mrs. Ralph E. Norman (Myrtle A. Patrick, 2) and Mrs. Robert L. Morgan (Elsie Fulenweider, 2), both of Murphysboro.

Also attending was Mrs. Helen Wilhelm Taylor, 2, Anna, commerce teacher in the Anna-Jonesboro High School for six years.

Mrs. John P. Carson (Marie Philp), of Waltonville, and

A. B. Churchill, Homewood, who operates a men and boy's clothing store on 63rd Street in Chicago. Mr. Churchill gave the class toast at the Alumni Day Banquet Program.

Mary C. Andrews, Ashland, Ore., sent her regrets. She was unable to attend because she was in Hawaii at the time.

1923

Ira W. Shelton, Troy, Ohio, is a representative for Shelton's Medical Supplies. His wife is the former Mabel Slack, ex, and they have a son, William.

Three teachers in the class are retired—Ruth Maxwell, 2, grade school teacher, retired in 1948 and lives in Nashville.

Mrs. J. C. Lindsey (Leona Perdue, 2) formerly taught in Marissa, now lives in Lawrenceville. Two sons are SIU alumni—John M. '51 and James R. '55.

After retirement from teaching, Frank E. Galbreath, 2, moved from Glen Ellyn to Denver, Colo.

From Jessie W. Stonecipher, chief flight instructor for the University of Illinois Institute of Aviation, Urbana: "Following graduation I taught school for two and a half years at Wayne City and married Maxine Richards '41 whose home was near there. During World War II I spent my time as a pilot in naval aviation, and upon discharge in 1946 came to Champaign to convert myself from a school teacher to a lawyer. The U. of I. was just starting the Institute of Aviation and the temptation to apply for the position of chief pilot was too great. I succumbed, applied, and fortunately was the lucky candidate. Law school went by the prop; however, I have managed to complete an M. S. degree in education, thereby proving the old adage, 'Once a teacher always a teacher!' I've been with the University as chief flight instructor since March, 1946. My family, in addition to my wife, consists of one son (11)."

Alumni News-in general

Two SIU alumni are officers in the Illinois Elementary School Principals' Association. President is Lowell F. Belcher '39, principal of Lincoln School in Monticello since 1956. One of the directors is Dale Berry '47, M.S. '52, principal of Milford Grade School.

Mr. Belcher, former grade school principal in Gibson City and high school principal in Roberts, had served as secretary of the association before being elected president.

From Maj. James G. Bridwell '57, stationed at Ellsworth AFB, S.D., "Lt. John T. North '56 just left here in July, and Lt. Delmar L. English '56 just reported in for duty with the KC 135 four jet tanker squadron. He has been stationed at Walker AFB, N.M. I'm still wing information service officer and checking out in the jet KC-135."

Four graduates received degrees from Washington University in St. Louis at June Commencement. Philip D. Rushing '58, East St. Louis, got a master of social work; Godfrey W. Schroeder '56, St. Louis, a doctor of dental surgery; Mary Lou Taylor '57, St. Louis, a master of arts in history; and Richard Loren Taylor '56, M.S. '56, Carbondale, a doctor of medicine.

A story which appeared recently in the Illinois Banker magazine was about three Southern alumni. It pertained to the news of the appointment of John Thomas Fly '57 as manager of the Kwajalein branch of the Bank of Hawaii.

This promotion made the fondest dreams of G. Wallace Rich '50, president of the First National Bank of Cobden, come true. When John Fly was attending SIU, he lived in an apartment above the Cobden Bank and became good friends with Mr. Rich. He decided to enter banking—specifically in Hawaii.

This is where the third alumnus enters the picture. Melvin Lockard, ex '24, who had been president of the Cobden bank, also met Tom and he and Mr. Rich wrote letters of recommendation for the young graduate. The Bank of Hawaii in Honolulu immediately hired Tom and he and his wife (Ruth Henderson '54) flew out there.

When the Hawaiian bank decided to establish facilities on Kwajalein, an atoll in the Marshall Islands, Tom was selected. The U.S. is establishing a Nike-Zeus Missile Station on the island and primary construction alone is supposed to amount to over $300-million.

Mr. Lockard, president of the National Bank of Mattoon, secretary of the SIU Board of Trustees, and former president of the Illinois Bankers Association, commented, "This story proves there is still romance in banking, as well as opportunity. Not everyone could be operating a branch bank on a small island in the Pacific near the equator, but there are opportunities galore both here and in our new states of Hawaii and Alaska."

One more note—The Flys are traveling 7,000 miles to attend the 1960 SIU Homecoming next month.

Dr. Arthur Lenzini, ex '48, Zeigler, and Dr. Richard Bazzetta '52, Carterville, are associated in the practice of dentistry in Herrin. Dr. Lenzini is secretary-treasurer of the Southern Illinois Dental Society.

Etheridge

Wildy

Dean and Assistant Dean of Students

Two SIU alumni have been named deans of students recently—Robert F. Etheridge '48, M.S. '49, appointed to the new position of dean of students at Miami University, Oxford, O., and Charles H. Wildy '53, M.S. '56, new assistant dean of students at Kansas State University, Manhattan.

Dean Etheridge went to Miami as dean of men a year ago from Michigan State University, where he had been assistant director of the men's division of student affairs. Before going to Michigan State, where he received a doctoral degree, he was assistant dean of student affairs at Southern from 1949 to 1958.

As dean of students at Miami, Mr. Etheridge coordinates the offices of the dean of men, dean of women, student health service and student counseling service as well as campus religious activities.

Mrs. Etheridge is the former Veda Hallam '48, who once was assistant to the SIU placement director. Robbie and Mike are the Etheridge sons.

On August 1 Charles H. Wildy became assistant dean of students at Kansas State, where he deals primarily with men's affairs, foreign students, and the scholarship program.

For the last three years he had been on the staff of the dean of students at Indiana University as head counselor for the Wells' Quadrangle of residence halls. Last June he received his doctorate from Indiana in the field of student personnel and guidance.

At Southern Mr. Wildy served as assistant coordinator of student activities. He is from Belleville. Mrs. Wildy is the former Helen Collins '57, daughter of Walter Collins, ex '27, West Frankfort high school teacher, and Mrs. Collins, member of the SIU Board of Trustees.
